Do you really know what assets you own at a given moment in time?

The range of IT assets and their numbers are increasing dramatically. Consider also that tablets, iPads and other mobile devices will continue to grow as the platform of choice for a range of professionals.

Managing technology assets is an essential function of every enterprise.

It all starts with knowing exactly what you have at any moment in time. A comprehensive, accurate technology inventory is at the very foundation of corporate policies such as cost containment, vendor and product standardization, license compliance, and risk management.

Gain greater visibility across all your IT, Telecom and Mobility assets.

You need a solution that is easy to use and manage, yet is powerful enough to leverage captured information and transform it into powerful management decisions. Comview's IT Asset Management is a comprehensive, integrated solution that saves you both money and time, provides valuable information, and keeps tabs on all your IT software and hardware inventory. With Comview you'll know your complete inventory of IT assets in real-time. You'll enhance your planning for refreshes, stay on top of warranty expirations, forecast future expenditures with greater accuracy and assure that your assets don't walk off.

A suite of modules including...

- Reporting and Business Intelligence
- Human Resources (HR) Interface
- General Ledger (GL) Interface
