Comview Corporation Senior Software Developer Receives Twenty Top Techies Award from LISTnet. Tao Zhong honored for innovative Wireless Management software

Huntington Station, NY – Comview Corporation, a leading provider of telecom cost management services, proudly announces that Tao Zhong, one of its Senior Software Developers, was honored by LISTnet (<http://www.listnet.org/>) as a recipient of the prestigious 2006 Twenty Top Techies (T3) award at a recent presentation ceremony. The award recognizes up and coming techies who work behind the scenes to use technology effectively to contribute to their company's growth. The LISTnet organization promotes Long Island as one of the national centers of excellence for software and technology solutions.

Zhong, who is responsible for developing Comview's Wireless Management Software, has played a lead role in the company's growth. As a senior software developer on the company's programming team, Zhong demonstrated innovative ideas on how the new product should be designed to take advantage of new technology and easily handle the ever changing specifications from the wireless vendors.

When interviewed subsequent to the award, Tao Zhong said, "It is such an honor being chosen by LISTNet as one of twenty top techies, especially when you consider the amazing group of software professionals throughout Long Island." John Perri, President of Comview Corporation added, "We are honored that a member of our software development team has been recognized by his peers in the IT community. These kudos for Tao are an impressive testament to the quality of Comview's people and technologies."
